Cheery libations to toast the holidays

BY BETH DEMMON | PHOTOGRAPHY BY MANDY SCHAFFER

Considering the crises we've collectively endured since the pandemic began, there's never been a better time to toast to what really matters—family, friends, and fun. And is there a more fitting way to celebrate our newfound togetherness than with bubbly beverages? This holiday season, it's all about the sparkle and shine of effervescence, a visual and palatable expression of joy in a glass. Plus, you don't have to know a ton about fizz to find it fun.

THE GENTLEMAN'S WHISKEY SMASH

Gentleman Jack, apricot purée, lemon juice, fresh mint, topped with soda water

This La Jolla institution is guaranteed to quench your thirst for something merry, and this fruit-infused whiskey cocktail is ideal for slow sipping. The soda water keeps flavors lively, and, after a few of these, the party is likely to get livelier as well!
